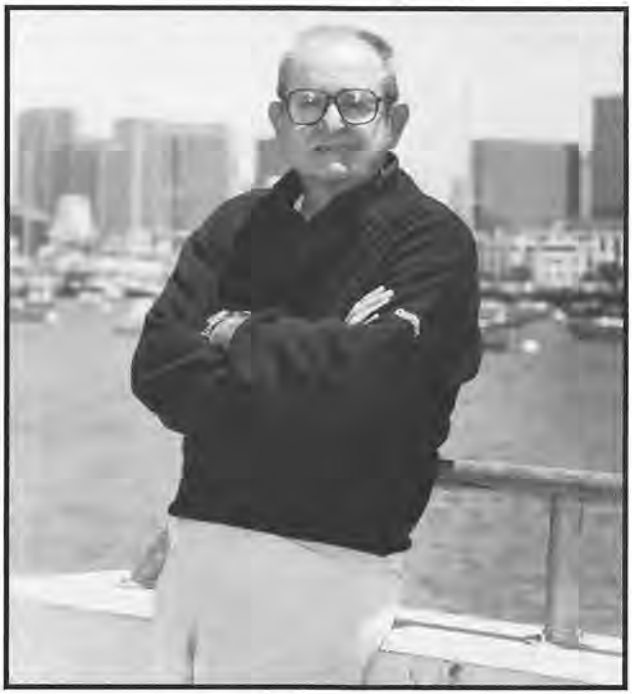
ALEX G. SPANOS



Chairman of Board/President

Alexander Gus Spanos, a self-made giant in the building industry, purchased majority interest in the San Diego Chargers August 1, 1984.

Spanos has moved with strength and vision in an effort to put the Chargers on top. With a "whatever-it-takes" approach, he is bringing all the pieces together to form a solid foundation for success. The hiring of General Manager Bobby Beathard, one of the most respected football men in the National Football League, was hailed around the League. He has aggressively pursued and signed some of the top players in football. He has modernized and upgraded the team's football training camp facilities with the state-of-the-art Alex G. Spanos Athletic and Recreation Building at the Chargers' summer camp at the University of California at San Diego. An Astroturf field at the Chargers' in-season practice facility at San Diego Jack Murphy Stadium was installed. Spanos also has completely renovated the team's locker room facilities and front office at the Stadium.

Spanos' commitment to the NFL also was recognized in May when Commissioner Paul Tagliabue named him to the League's Expansion and Realignment Committee. Spanos is one of six NFL owners entrusted to develop recommendations on expansion and realignment issues which will greatly affect the future of pro football.

And when America needed a helping hand, Spanos was there to deliver. He recently spearheaded the most aggressive fundraising campaign during the Gulf War crisis and delivered the most successful fundraising event in the history of the United Service Organization. As National Chairman of the U.S.O.'s Golden Anniversary Salute Luncheon April 5 in Los Angeles, Spanos guided an effort which raised more than $4.5 million. Spanos personally arranged for and presented a check for $250,000 to the U.S.O. on behalf of the 28 NFL teams through NFL Charities. The contribution was the second largest single grant ever by NFL Charities. The Luncheon was attended by President George Bush, former Presidents Ronald Reagan and Gerald Ford, Secretary of Defense Dick Cheney, General Colin Powell, and U.S.O.'s Ambassador of Goodwill, Bob Hope.

These moves demonstrate the commitment of a man who has carved a remarkable career in business and whose dedication to family and community has been an inspiring example for others.

Spanos was born September 28, 1923, in Stockton, California. He developed his tireless work ethic early, starting as an eight-year-old in his father's restaurant, rising before dawn to help prepare pastries before attending school. In 1951, Spanos borrowed $800, purchased a truck and set out on his own. He began his own catering business serving migrant farm workers in the San Joaquin Valley. Spanos later began investing in real estate and in 1960 formed the A.G. Spanos Construction Company, which has become one of the largest apartment builders in the United States.

In addition to A.G. Spanos Construction, Inc., Spanos created and chairs A.G. Spanos Properties, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Management, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Development, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Enterprises, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Realty, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Marketing, Inc.; AGS Financial Corporation, and the A.G. Spanos Land Company.

Throughout his rags-to-riches life, Spanos always has treasured family and community above all else.

Though one of the nation's most productive corporate businesses, the A.G. Spanos organization continues as a family-run operation. Eldest son Dean serves as President of the Spanos corporate organization and Vice Chairman of AGS Financial and the Chargers. Son Michael and son-in-law Barry Ruhl manage the construction and development activities in the western and southeastern divisions of the company.

A son of Greek immigrants, Spanos' hard work and determination to succeed was recognized in 1986 as he was one of a select group of 80 Americans awarded the Ellis Island Medal of Honor by the Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Foundation and the New York Statue of Liberty Commission. In a special ceremony on Ellis Island, the honorees were cited for being "outstanding American citizens who have distinguished themselves in their respective fields of endeavor, while preserving the values of their particular heritages".

In 1989, Spanos received the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith's National Distinguished Community Service Award for devotion to community and concern for others.

Spanos is Honorary Regent of the University of the Pacific and a Trustee at the Eisenhower Medical Center in Palm Springs. He has donated substantially to benefit critically ill youngsters at Childrens Hospital and Health Center in San Diego. He was awarded a Honorary Doctor of Laws Degree by the University of the Pacific on the same day he gave the commencement address to the 1984 graduating class. In 1985, Spanos was chairman of San Diego Childrens Hospital's first Miracle Network Telethon. In 1987, Spanos served as chairman of the San Diego County Easter Seals Telethon and was chairman of the Loaned Executive campaign during the annual United Way/CHAD drive in San Diego County.

Spanos also was the founder and driving force behind seven biennial fundraising "Evening of Elegance" dinners benefitting assorted children's charities including San Diego Childrens Hospital and Health Center. Proceeds from the last "Evening of Elegance" held in 1987 topped the one million dollar mark.

close friend Bob Hope. Spanos displayed an entertainer's talent and flair when he lived a childhood dream and danced on stage. Together, Spanos and Hope sang and danced on numerous occasions both at home and abroad.

Spanos' acquisition of the Chargers culminated a lifelong interest and involvement in sports. He earned varsity letters in swimming and diving at the University of the Pacific in Stockton and later distinguished himself as an amateur golfer. Spanos was the first person ever to be on the winning teams in both the Bob Hope Desert Classic in Palm Desert (1977) and the Bob Hope British Pro-Am in Epsom, England (1980). In 1987, Spanos was inducted into the Stockton Athletic Hall of Fame.

Alex and his wife, Faye, have four children — Dean, Dea, Alexis (Mrs. Barry Ruhl), and Michael — and eight grandchildren. They maintain residences in Stockton; Tarpon Springs, Florida; and Palm Springs, California.

DEAN SPANOS

Vice Chairman

Dean Spanos has brought broad business and financial expertise to the Chargers since 1984 when he took a leading role in the management and administration of personnel and fiscal matters.

For the past 20 years, Dean also has been working with his father, owner Alex Spanos, in apartment construction and land development. Currently, he is President of the Spanos corporate organization and Vice Chairman of the AGS Financial Corporation where he is responsible for all construction operations nationwide and all financial matters relating to the acquisition and development of projects.

Dean attended the University of the Pacific in Stockton, California, from which he received a degree in business administration in 1972. He maintains close ties with his alma mater, serving as a Regent at the University.

Dean's busy career in business and the National Football League hasn't hampered his status as one of the nation's most successful amateur golfers. An avid golfer since his college years, he notched four Pro-Am victories, including back-to-back wins in 1989-90 at the Bob Hope Chrysler Classic and the AT&T National Pro-Am at Pebble Beach where he teamed with partner Hubert Green. He also tied for first at the Hope Classic in 1991. Spanos and Green won the Bing Crosby Pro-Am at Pebble Beach in 1985 where Dean was awarded the "Most Valuable Amateur" trophy for supplying the most help to his professional partner. Also in 1985, he was on the winning team in the Senior Players Reunion Pro-Am in Dallas with Billy Casper.

Dean Alexander Spanos was born May 26, 1950, in Stockton. He was an outstanding member of the Lincoln High School golf team in Stockton before continuing his golfing career at the University of the Pacific. Recently, Dean received the Lincoln High Hall of Fame Award which honors alumni whose contributions and accomplishments are representative of the school. He was recognized for his accomplishments in the areas of business and athletics. He now resides in La Jolla, California, with his wife, Susan, and sons, Alexander Gus (July 2, 1977) and John Dean (Nov. 7, 1979).

BOBBY BEATHARD

General Manager

29th NFL Season
2nd Season with Chargers

The Super Bowl is the pinnacle of success in the National Football League and Bobby Beathard has been the master architect of five Super Bowl participants, including four world champions. He turned the NFL's oldest team of the 70's — the Washington Redskins — into one of the most successful organizations of the 80's. When Alex Spanos named Beathard general manager of the San Diego Chargers January 3, 1990, it brought hope for similar success to follow Beathard and the Chargers into the 90's.

In his short time with the Chargers, Beathard has acted with the same vitality and decisiveness that highlights his 28 years as an NFL talent evaluator. A tireless and aggressive approach to the NFL draft is a Beathard trademark. His judgement was on the mark in 1990 when seven players from his first draft in San Diego ended up in the starting lineup, including all-Rookie performers Junior Seau, Leo Goeas and Frank Cornish. Beathard made more strong moves in 1991 which allowed him to draft 15 players, including four in the first two rounds.

Beathard also has been one of the NFL's most active and successful participants in signing veteran NFL Plan B free agent talent. He landed immediate help for the Chargers when he arrived by signing running back Ronnie Harmon, punter John Kidd and kicker John Carney. Harmon proved to be a phenomenal talent both rushing and receiving while Kidd and Carney solidified the kicking game. The 1991 class of Plan B veterans lists eight players, including offensive lineman Mark May, a former Super Bowl and Pro Bowl performer for the Washington Redskins.

Though success has followed Beathard through his NFL career, Beathard has remained one of League's most low-key and well-liked personalities. Representative of his modesty is the fact he owns five Championship rings, yet never wears or displays one.

Beathard has demonstrated a keen eye for talent since becoming a part-time scout with the Kansas City Chiefs in 1963. He left the Chiefs briefly to scout for the American Football League and returned to Kansas City full-time after the AFL-NFL merger in 1966 and earned his first championship ring as a member of the 1966 Chiefs' organization. Beathard then served as a scout for the Atlanta Falcons, 1968-71.

In 1972, Beathard was named director of player personnel for the Miami Dolphins. The Dolphins won the following two Super Bowls. Then on February 24, 1978, the Redskins made Bobby their general manager and he ultimately showed the league that first-round draft picks were weapons to be used in trades. In his 11 years, the Redskins had only three first-round picks. They went to the Super Bowl three times and won twice.

Beathard's handiwork was apparent on all three Super Bowl teams, including the World Champion Redskins of 1982 whose roster included an astounding 27 free agents signed by Bobby since he joined the team in 1978. The 1983 squad, which finished 14-2, also made it to the Super Bowl. The Super Bowl XXII team that defeated Denver, 42-10, in San Diego, was led by players acquired through Beathard's respected eye for talent, including MVP Doug Williams and record-setting running back Timmy Smith.

Appropriately, Beathard's first selection as Washington's general manager, 1978 sixth-round returner Tony Green, made the Pro Bowl. The following year he signed linebackers Rich Milot, Monte Coleman and Neal Olkewicx, who played together for nine years. His first selection that year, fourth-round tight end Don Warren from San Diego State, is still with the club.

Beathard left the NFL to serve as a commentator for the National Broadcasting Company (NBC) on it's weekly "NFL '89" show during the 1989 season.

Beathard has returned to the Southern California life-style in which he was raised. Born in Zanesville, Ohio, January 24, 1937, Robert Beathard, Jr., grew up in the Los Angeles area and attended El Segundo High. He moved on to Cal Poly-San Luis Obispo where he played quarterback, 1956-58, and led the 1957 and '58 teams to consecutive 9-1 records.

Bobby signed to play for the Redskins in 1959 but was released. He was in the Los Angeles Chargers' training camp in 1960 as a defensive back. Beathard's playing career ended in 1962 with Minnesota after playing six games.

Bobby and his wife, Christine, reside in Encinitas, California. Beathard is an avid runner. He has run in dozens of marathons, including several Boston Marathons. He also enjoys surfing and cycling. Bobby has four children: Kurt (Jan. 4, 1963); Jeff (June 9, 1964), who was selected in the twelfth round in 1988 by the Rams; Casey (Dec. 2, 1965), and Jaime (Sept. 25, 1968).

What they say about BOBBY BEATHARD:

"(Beathard's arrival is) the most encouraging thing that has happened to this franchise since Lance Alworth hit town."
WAYNE LOCKWOOD, SAN DIEGO UNION

"This is a guy who's 53 going on 23. He's got more energy than anyone in the business. I thought all along that San Diego was a sleeping giant anyway, but now with Bobby there, well, let's just say I'm glad we don't play the AFC West every year."
GEORGE YOUNG, N. Y. GIANTS GENERAL MANAGER

"He's totally unafraid of taking chances. The typical approach in the NFL is go slow, be conservative, be careful when you make trades. If your trades go bad, you look bad. Bobby couldn't care less. He goes full speed and never looks back."
DICK STEINBERG, N. Y. JETS GENERAL MANAGER

San Diego Chargers

DAN HENNING

Head Coach
17th NFL Season
4th Season with Chargers

When the San Diego Chargers released backup quarterback Dan Henning in 1967, little did they know this articulate William & Mary graduate would some day hold the fate of the team in his hands. Twenty-two years later on February 9, 1989, Henning returned as the eighth head coach in team history.

Since his beginnings in pro football as a backup quarterback with the Chargers in the mid-1960s, Henning turned to a career in coaching and has become one of the brightest teachers in the game. His ability to innovate and motivate has pushed him to the pinnacle of the coaching profession twice, first as head coach of Atlanta from 1983-86 and now with the Chargers.

Henning brought to San Diego a proven formula for success, and he has nearly all the ingredients in place. Under Henning, the Chargers now can boast many of the same qualities common to most Super Bowl champions: a smothering defense; a ball-control offense, and dominating, big-play special teams.

In 1990, Henning's defensive troops ranked fifth overall in the NFL, tying the team's highest-ever defensive ranking. Henning designed a powerful running attack which churned up an AFC-leading 141 yards a game. The result was a new team record of 2,257 yards rushing, topping the 27-year-old record of 2,201 yards set in 1963. The results of Henning's commitment to special teams was spectacular. Overall, San Diego had the NFL's highest-ranked teams, finishing first in the League in kickoff returns and punt return coverage, fourth in kickoff return coverage and eighth in punt returns.

Henning supplied leadership and motivation throughout his first season at the Chargers' helm. No team battled harder or longer. Thirteen of the Chargers' 16 games were decided by a touchdown or less, most in the NFL, and the outcome of 12 of those contests was in doubt into the final two minutes of the game.

Instrumental in keeping the Chargers close was a defense which ranked sixth in the NFL, its highest finish since 1980. No opponent scored more than 20 points against San Diego in 13 of the last 14 games, setting a club record.

The Bronx, New York, native returned to San Diego from Washington where he tutored the Redskins' passing game and quarterbacks in 1987-88, helping lead the team to a 42-10 victory over the Denver Broncos in Super Bowl XXII played in San Diego. He was instrumental in reviving the career of Super Bowl MVP quarterback Doug Williams. Henning earned his first Super Bowl ring following the 1982 season — a 27-17 win over Miami in Super Bowl XVII — while serving as the Redskins' assistant head coach.

In between Super Bowl victories, the Falcons summoned Henning to lead their team as head coach. In four seasons with Henning at the helm, 1983-86, the Falcons improved dramatically in many offensive and defensive categories. The defense jumped from twenty-fifth in 1983 to seventh in the NFL in 1986 while the offense proved powerful on the ground with the third-ranked running game in the League in both 1985-86. Henning's Falcons were 9-8-1 in his final 18 games in Atlanta. In the last four seasons since his departure, the Falcons have a combined 16-47 record.

Henning has coached sixteen seasons in the National Football League, beginning as an assistant coach with the Houston Oilers in 1972. The former college and professional quarterback worked with the quarterbacks and receivers at Houston. He returned to the NFL in 1976 as the quarterbacks and receivers coach of the New York Jets in 1976 through 1978. Henning coached the same positions for Don Shula and the Miami Dolphins, 1979-80, and for the Redskins, 1981-82. Following four seasons as Atlanta's head coach, he returned to Washington in 1987.

Upon retiring as a player, Henning began his coaching career on the college level, tutoring the quarterbacks and receivers at Florida State from 1968-70 and 1974. He also served as offensive coordinator at Virginia Tech in 1971 and '73, helping build Don Strock into an NFL quarterback. He also coached future NFL QBs Gary Huff and Bill Cappleman at Florida State.

Dan starred four seasons as a collegiate quarterback at William & Mary and finished fourteenth in the nation in passing yardage as a senior in 1963. He entered the professional ranks with the Chargers during the preseason of 1964, before continuing in the Continental League with Springfield, Mass., the same season. Henning played for the Norfolk Neptunes in 1965 before coming back to the Chargers as a free agent in 1966, earning a spot on the roster. Dan was with San Diego again in the 1967 preseason before finishing his playing career in 1967 at Norfolk.

Daniel Ernest Henning was born June 21, 1942, in Bronx, New York. He was an all-League and all-City performer for the St. Francis Prep Terriers in Brooklyn, playing football, basketball, and baseball. He obtained a bachelor's degree in physical education in 1964 from William & Mary. During the time in which he lived in San Diego as a player, 1964-67, Henning worked as a substitute teacher in school districts throughout San Diego County. Henning is a sports enthusiast, especially golf and racquetball. Dan has three daughters — Mary (Oct. 31, 1961), Patty (Nov. 13, 1962), and Terry (July 6, 1968) — and two sons — Dan (June 22, 1965) and Mike (Jan. 30, 1973) — and two grandchildren — Teddy and Hunter Ritz. He resides in the Mt. Helix area of La Mesa.

Henning was named San Diego's eighth head coach Feb. 9, 1989.

COACHING STAFF

CHUCK CLAUSEN

Defensive Line
9th NFL Season
1st Season with Chargers

Clausen brought fourteen years of NFL coaching experience and one Super Bowl ring to the Chargers when he was named defensive line coach February 19, 1991.

Clausen, 50, was the Atlanta Falcon's linebacker coach under Chargers' head coach Dan Henning in 1986 and remained with the Falcons in the same capacity through 1989.

Before joining Atlanta, Clausen spent 10 seasons with the Philadelphia Eagles, nine as defensive line coach (1976-84), and then took over the linebackers in 1985. Under Clausen, the 1984 Eagles set team records for quarterback sacks in a season (60 — 58 by linemen) and sacks in a single game (nine). Five of Clausen's six defensive linemen established career highs for sacks during the 1984 season. Following the 1980 season Clausen coached the Eagles' defensive line in Super Bowl XV.

Several players earned Pro Bowl recognition under Clausen in Philadelphia, including Claude Humphrey, Charlie Johnson, Dennis Harrison, and Carl Hairston.

Clausen has 28 years of coaching experience. Before entering the NFL in 1976, he coached eight years collegiately. He coached defensive line five seasons at Ohio State (1971-75) under Woody Hayes, and while he was at William & Mary he spent one season (1968) under Buffalo Bills' head coach Marv Levy and two with Notre Dame's Lou Holtz (1969-70). During Clausen's five years at Ohio State, the Buckeyes won four Big 10 titles. Clausen began his collegiate service as defensive coordinator at New Mexico Military Institute in 1969. Clausen also coached four years on the high school level in New Mexico and California.

Clausen was a three-year letterman in football and wrestling for the University of New Mexico and was graduated in 1963. He later earned a master's degree in physical education at San Jose State.

Born June 23, 1940, in Anamosa, Iowa, Chuck Richard Clausen and his wife, Betsy, now reside in San Diego. The Clausens have three children; daughters Cari (Aug. 17, 1967) and Lisa (March 25, 1969), and son Chad (July 17, 1971).

Dunn played guard at Penn State, 1974-77, serving as offensive co-captain his senior season. He was graduated with a degree in health and physical education in 1978 and served as the Lions' assistant offensive line and weight coach.

John James Dunn was born July 22, 1956, in Hillsdale, New York, and was a three-sport star for Taconic Hills High in Philmont, New York. He owned and operated Nautilus clubs in York, Pennsylvania, 1980-83, and Goshen, New York, 1984-86. In 1990, Gibbs' first season in San Diego, the newcomer reshuffled the Chargers' offensive line, going with talented youth over experience, and helped produce the most powerful rushing attack in team history. Despite having just one returning starter in the same position, the offensive line opened holes for a running game which gained a club-record 2,257 yards on a NFL-high 4.7 yards per carry. It also yielded nearly half as many sacks, dropping from 39 sacks in 1989 to the League's second-lowest total of 20 last year.

Gibbs was named the Chargers' offensive line coach Feb. 8, 1990, after leaving the Los Angeles Raiders where he was assistant head coach two seasons, 1988-89.

Gibbs, 50, spent four seasons as offensive line coach of the Denver Broncos, 1984-87, before going to the Raiders with head coach Mike Shanahan. Known for their hard-nosed, scrappy play, his troops helped take Denver to the Super Bowl following the 1986 and '87 seasons.

1990 GAME BY GAME

WEEK 1

at Dallas 17, San Diego 14

Sunday, Sept. 9

The Chargers took a 14-7 halftime lead in Dallas but could manage just 70 total yards in the second half and fell, 17-14, to the Cowboys. After Dallas scored to open the game, quarterback Mark Vlasic led the Chargers 62 yards in 11 plays and wrapped up the drive with a 14-yard scoring toss to Craig McEwen. It was Vlasic's first action since 1988 and only start of 1990, and McEwen's first NFL touchdown. Marion Butts added another score before the half. Vlasic completed 11 of 16 passes in the first half for 84 yards while Butts added 44 yards on 11 carries. The second half was a different story as Vlasic hit the target just six times in 15 throws. San Diego turned the ball over twice, but neither led to points for the Cowboys. Defensively, Leslie O'Neal picked up two of the team's five sacks. The Chargers' special teams were solid. The kickoff coverage team pinned the Cowboys back on their own 16, 6, and 19-yard lines on three kickoffs. And the punt coverage team did not allow one return yard as the Cowboys called three fair catches and tried one return for no yards.

WEEK 2

Cincinnati 21, at San Diego 16

Sunday, Sept. 16

The Chargers played their home opener against the Cincinnati Bengals and came out firing. The Chargers grabbed the lead on their first series and held the lead until Cincinnati went up for good, 21-16, with 2:52 left in the game. Quarterback Billy Joe Tolliver led the Chargers 59 yards on six plays to open the game and culminated the drive with a 36-yard pass play to Ronnie Harmon. They increased their lead, 13-0, following Billy Ray Smith's second interception of 1990 when Tolliver hit H-back Joe Caravello from 17 yards out. Two Cincinnati scores and a Fuad Reveiz field goal rounded out the first-half scoring with San Diego on top, 16-14. The only score of the second half put the game away for the Bengals, a 23-yard pass from Boomer Esiason to Eddie Brown. San Diego outgained the Bengals in total yardage, 417 to 302 yards, including 278 yards passing and 139 yards rushing. Marion Butts led the way on the ground with 103 yards on 18 carries, his second career 100-yard rushing day. Anthony Miller caught nine passes for 137 yards, his sixth career 100-yard effort. Harmon added five receptions for 81 yards. Tolliver finished the day with 20 completions in 38 attempts for 284 yards, two touchdowns and one interception. Punter John Kidd averaged 47.7 yards on six punts, including boots of 53, 54, and 57 yards. The defense once again came out attacking. The front line claimed three sacks, two by Burt Grossman and one by Leslie O'Neal. Esiason also was intercepted three times, once each by Smith, Vencie Glenn, and Gill Byrd.

WEEK 3

San Diego 24, at Cleveland 14

Sunday, Sept. 23

The Chargers tasted victory for the first time this season after downing the Cleveland Browns, 24-14, in Cleveland Stadium. Kicker Fuad Reveiz opened the game's scoring with a 42-yard field goal early in the first quarter. On the Chargers' next drive, Billy Joe Tolliver was intercepted by linebacker Mike Johnson who raced 64 yards for a touchdown. Tolliver then hit Anthony Miller from 19 yards out to take the lead, 10-7, and then hit him from 23 yards out in the third quarter to take the lead for good, 17-14. Rod Bernstine dove in from one yard away to finish the scoring. The Charger offense controlled the ball with a powerful ground game. They picked up eight of their 16 first downs rushing. Marion Butts once again paced the attack with 90 yards on 24 carries, including 62 yards in the second half. Ronnie Harmon and Bernstine also added 30 and 20 yards, respectively. Tolliver started slow, completing eight of 22 passes for 86 yards, one touchdown and two interceptions in the first half. As the ground game picked up in the second half, Tolliver steadied and hit four of seven passes for 53 yards and another touchdown. The defense shut down the Cleveland running game, allowing just 44 yards on 19 carries. Ineffective on the ground, the Browns were forced to the air and the Chargers were ready. Quarterback Bernie Kosar was sacked three times and threw three interceptions. Lee Williams had two sacks and Sam Seale, Joe Fuller and Henry Rolling all had their first interceptions of 1990. The special teams played well, limiting the Brown's potent kickoff return unit to just 12.8 yards on five kick returns and 5.7 yards on four punt returns.

Harry Scull Jr.

Sam Seale notched one of three Chargers' interceptions against the Browns.

WEEK 4

Houston 17, at San Diego 7

Sunday, Sept. 30

The Chargers ran into the Houston Oilers' second-ranked "run-and-shoot" offense and found their speedy receivers and their own mistakes too much to handle and lost, 17-7, in San Diego. Houston took the opening kickoff and marched 91 yards in 17 plays to take a 7-0 lead. San Diego's defense had forced the Oilers to attempt a field goal which was missed, but an illegal "leaping" penalty against the Chargers gave Houston another first down. The Oilers scored two plays later. The Chargers drove into Houston territory on their first possession, but a 45-yard field goal attempt was wide right. San Diego tied the score at 7-7 when it marched 80 yards in seven plays and Billy Joe Tolliver hit Anthony Miller on a 27-yard shot. The Oilers went up at halftime, 14-7. In the second half, the Oilers hit and the Chargers missed field goals to round out the scoring. Houston outgained the Chargers in total yards (421 to 298), first downs (29 to 14), and most other offensive categories. Quarterback Warren Moon was the Chargers' biggest nemesis, hitting 27 of 46 pass attempts for 355 yards, two touchdowns and one interception. Martin Bayless starred on defense for San Diego, collecting 11 tackles and two sacks.

WEEK 5

at Pittsburgh 36, San Diego 14

Sunday, Oct. 7

The Chargers dropped a 36-14 decision to the Steelers in Pittsburgh. It was the most points allowed by San Diego since Week 1 a year ago. The game concluded a four-game sweep through the AFC Central Division in which San Diego finished 1-3. The Chargers, wearing their new navy blue pants for the first time in their history, scored on their first drive and took their only lead of the game, 7-3, when Billy Joe Tolliver tossed a two-yard touchdown pass to linebacker Gary Plummer who was lined up at fullback. It was Plummer's first offensive play and first NFL score. San Diego's only other score came on a fumble recovery in the end zone by nose tackle Les Miller. The Chargers' defense found the Steelers' running game hard to handle as it churned up 185 yards and controlled the ball 39:07. Pittsburgh's passing game also completed 18 of 25 passes.

WEEK 6

San Diego 39, at New York Jets 3

Sunday, Oct. 14

The Chargers produced their most lopsided win since 1980 when they defeated the New York Jets in Giants Stadium, 39-3. It was the largest margin of victory for the Chargers since they blew out the New York Giants, 44-7, on October 19, 1980. The Rod Bernstine dashed 40 yards for a score against the Jets in the Meadowlands.

36-point winning margin equals the combined winning margins of the Chargers' last six victories and was also the biggest scoring day for San Diego in 47 games. Defensive end Burt Grossman started the scoring by sacking quarterback Ken O'Brien in the end zone for a safety, the team's first safety since 1987. Anthony Miller and Marion Butts scored touchdowns and kicker John Carney attempted and hit his first two field goals since 1988 in the first half. In the second half, Butts again and Rod Bernstine added touchdowns to go with another Carney field goal. The Chargers' defense had its best day since 1986 as they held the Jets to three points and 148 total offensive yards. New York gained just 53 yards passing and was sacked four times. The offense gained 412 yards on the day, including 224 yards rushing, and was never forced to punt. It was the first time since 1977 and third time in team history that the Chargers didn't punt. Butts had his third 100-yard performance with 121 yards and two touchdowns on 26 carries.

WEEK 9

San Diego 31, at Seattle 17

Sunday, Nov. 4

The Chargers turned in their first victory in Seattle since 1980 when they defeated the Seahawks, 31-14. San Diego marched 72 yards in 11 plays on its first possession and scored on an 11-yard pass from Billy Joe Tolliver to Ronnie Harmon. It was the seventh time in nine games the Chargers have scored on their opening drive. After Seattle tied the score, Tolliver hit Quinn Early on a 45-yard scoring bomb to give San Diego a 14-7 halftime lead. It was the Chargers' longest pass play of 1990 and the longest of Early's career. With the Chargers leading, 17-7, in the third quarter, the Chargers' special teams delivered a knockout punch when rookie Nate Lewis returned a punt 63 yards for San Diego's first touchdown on a punt return since 1987. The defense followed suit with a score on Seattle's next play from scrimmage when nose tackle Les Miller recovered a fumble in the end zone. Tolliver completed 11 of 24 passes for 145 yards and two touchdowns and no interceptions. He had now attempted 94 consecutive passes without an interception. Leslie O'Neal had two sacks, two passes defensed, and a forced fumble.

WEEK 10

at San Diego 19, Denver 7

Sunday, Nov. 11

The Denver Broncos scored on their opening drive to take a 7-0 lead, but it was all San Diego after that as the Chargers turned in a 19-7 victory. It was the Chargers' fourth win in their last five games. Following the Broncos' score, kicker John Carney connected on field goals of 19, 23, and 43 yards in the second quarter to hand the Chargers a 9-7 halftime lead. At the half, San Diego had outgained Denver in toal yardage, 225 yards to 99. In the second half, Carney hit a 32-yard field goal and ended the day 4-for-4, tying the club record for the most field goals in a game and the most without a miss. Linebacker Gary Plummer scored his second career touchdown when he drove his way in from the one-yard line. The Chargers attempted just five passes in the second half, completing four, and rushed the ball 20 times. Marion Butts led the way despite a thigh injury which kept him out of the starting lineup. He gained 114 yards on 16 carries for his fourth career 100-yard game. Ronnie Harmon started and gained 71 yards on 10 carries. Billy Joe Tolliver completed 16 of 27 passes for 172 yards and no interceptions, the fifth-straight game (121 consecutive passes) without an interception, the second longest streak in team history behind 168 passes by Dan Fouts in 1981. Gill Byrd added two interceptions which led to 10 points.

Sunday, Nov. 18

The Chargers committed a season-high five turnovers and forced none for the first time in 1990. At the same time, San Diego was penalized 11 times for 96 yards, another season high. These two statistics combined with a 90-yard scoring pass play by the Chiefs on the third play from scrimmage were too much to overcome as the Chargers fell in Kansas City, 27-10. The Chiefs took a 10-0 lead on a field goal following a Chargers' fumble on their first offensive play. The Chargers came to within a touchdown in the third quarter, 17-10, when Billy Joe Tolliver hit tight end Derrick Walker from two yards out. Marion Butts gained a season-low 40 yards on 14 carries. Tolliver had attempted 140 straight passes without an interception before he threw two in the game.

Sunday, Dec. 16

The Chargers lost in Denver, 20-10. After opening the scoring with a 30-yard field goal by John Carney, the Chargers were forced to come from behind most of the game. A fumble and interception deep in Denver territory were costly. San Diego's powerful ground attack got rolling in the first half. Marion Butts chalked up 63 yards on 19 carries in the half. But forced to the air most of the second half, Butts carried the ball just three times for eight yards and finished the day with 71 yards, handing the big back 1,225 yards for the season and a new Chargers' single-season record. Butts sustained a foot injury and missed the rest of the season. Tolliver tied a career high with 51 pass attempts and his 26 completions were a personal best. Ronnie Harmon accounted for 116 yards receiving, a career high. John Kidd had his best day in the NFL with a 52.3-yard average on four punts.

1991 PLAYING RULE CHANGES

1. Specifies that officials are to whistle the play dead whenever a defensive lineman clearly penetrates beyond the neutral zone before the ball is snapped and continues unabated toward the quarterback.

2. Stipulates that all five-yard line markings (as well as sidelines hashmarks) will stop eight (8) inches from respective sidelines.

3. Consolidates the existing playing rules, League policy statements and applicable bylaws that govern the equipment, uniforms, and general appearance of players on game-day.

4. Further clarifies that grasp and control of the quarterback is to be called only when his safety is in jeopardy.

5. If a foul committed by an opponent caused an injury, a team timeout would not be charged to that team anytime in the game rather than only during the last two minutes of a half as provided for in previous rules.

6. Makes it illegal for an offensive player to deliberately bat a backward pass in flight toward the opponent's goal line.

7. Further clarifies that officials will wind the Game Clock on declined penalties outside of the last two minutes of the first half and the last five minutes of the second half only if the penalty caused the clock to stop instead of on all declined penalties.

8. Provides that the Game Clock would not start until the snap is made following any change of possession even if a player went out of bounds.

9. Whenever a subsequent change of possession occurs, a foul by the defense behind the line on a play that becomes dead behind the line, the penalty for the foul will permit the offensive team to at least get back to the previous spot.

10. Specifies that if any offensive player simulates the start of a play, a foul for false start is to be called immediately, whether or not the defense reacts.

11. Punts, drop kicks, and field goals can only be attempted from behind the line of scrimmage rather than behind or beyond the line according to previous rules. Rule also eliminates the provision for a return kick.

12. Whenever a 15-yard penalty is to be assessed on a play involving a double foul when a five-yard-only foul was committed by the opponent, the major penalty would always be marked off from the previous spot rather than the spot of the foul, the previous spot or the location where the ball became dead.

13. A safety will no longer be scored when a player fumbles the ball out of bounds in his own end zone provided the opponent created the impetus to put the ball into the end zone. The ruling will be a touchback. It will also be a touchback when a player fumbles the ball in the field of play and the ball goes out of bounds in the opponent's end zone.

Miller Lite
NFL Player of the Year Award

There's the best. Then there's the rest.

To honor that distinction among NFL players, Miller Lite is sponsoring an extensive award program culminating in the naming of an annual NFL Player of the Year.

Every week of the NFL season, 28 players — one from each team — will be selected by press box media. A special media panel then will select a national Miller Lite NFL Player of the Week who will be announced every Wednesday in the USA Today sports section.

At the end of the regular season, six Miller Lite NFL player of the Year candidates will be chosen from among each of the teams' winners. Fans then can vote for their choice of NFL Player of the Year — the best of the best.

Look for special fan ballots and sweepstakes information in USA Today during the season.
